Are You Feeling Fit?

Do you envy the man or woman of untiring energy, strong body and happy disposition? All these depend upon good health, and good health is impossible when the kidneys are weak, overworked or diseased. Foley Kidney Pills act promptly and help the kidneys filter the blood and cast out the poisonous waste products that cause sore and swollen muscles and joints, backache, rheumatism, and symptoms that give warning of dangerous kidney and bladder ailments. —Sands-Dorsey Drug Co.

Rhea DeOliviera and brother, Herman, and A. R. Carter, drove over to Clovis last Saturday and returned to Tucumcari Sunday evening. They report a good rain all the way, but much heavier between here and the Cap Rock.

There are a number of would-be bachelors in the city these days. They are grass-widowers and you can tell them when you pass the residence and see one of them sitting on the front or back porch with a far-away look on his face.

LOST—Small black coin purse, containing about $2.76 in cash, one plain gold ring and one gold ring with ruby and small settings. Lost somewhere between the residences of the Misses Tanquary and John Eager. Liberal reward for return to this office.

It is being told that a Clovis man broke his Ford on a hill close to that city last week, and he hitched his dog to the car to help pull it in. When he reached Main street the city marshal caught him and took him to court, where the judge fined him ten dollars for tying a tin can to a dog's tail.

The owners of the Vorenberg Bar think the burglar left the change because he thought the Bond & Lillard he drank was worth it.

Plenty of ball games in sight now and there will be a good one at the local diamond Sunday providing nothing happens to hinder present arrangements. Two first team batteries will work against each other and each team will have good players behind them. Don't fail to attend.

Dr. W. Leming of Tucumcari and Mr. Boothe of the Kansas City Life Insurance Co., accompanied Dr. J. T. Gaines of Nara Visa on an automobile trip to Ute Park and other points of interest in the mountains to the northwest. They stopped in Roy Monday and Tuesday waiting for the roads to dry up after the rain.—Spanish American.

T. P. Bates was a Tucumcari business visitor the first of the week, and James Fry, who has been away for nearly three years, came over with him. We are glad to see him back in the Land of Sunshine, and believe that when he sizes things up as they are here now, that he will likely decide to remain with us.—House Pioneer News.

Ben Crawford of Hollene, Curry county, has threshed and sold 23 bu. of wheat per acre from his farm this year, the wheat bringing him One Dollar per bushel. Where else in the southwest will the same priced land return such profits? The past three years have proven that this is a small grain country and it is expected that this fall will see a much larger acreage of our land planted to wheat, which has also proven to be the surer and most valuable money crop for the farmer.—House Pioneer News.

Mrs. Mae M. Luttrell, who has been teaching in the Tucumcari schools for a number of years, is moving to Montoya, where she has been employed to take charge of the schools. Mrs. Luttrell has always been considered one of the best teachers here and the citizens of Montoya made a good selection when they chose her to conduct the school. Mrs. Luttrell and daughter have just returned from a visit with relatives in Duston, El Reno and many other points in Oklahoma, where they enjoyed the scenery of the bountiful crops all over the state.

For Hay Fever or Asthma
Many people dread July on account of the recurrence of hay fever. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound long has been recognized as the ideal remedy for hay fever and asthma, because it heals and soothes that raw, rasping feeling in the throat and eases the choking sensation. It allays inflammation and irritation and brings about easy and natural breathing. Contains no habit forming drugs.—Sands-Dorsey Drug Co.

A BARGAIN—One of the best equipped poultry farms in the state, located 1 1/2 miles from good town of 3000 inhabitants. Good business already established. Land or equipment may be bought separately. Just the opportunity for a good live hustler to make good investment.

H. H. Bailey, president of the Farmers Guaranty State Bank of Clifton, Texas, together with his wife and her sister, Mrs. C. H. Ray, of Weatherford Oklahoma, arrived in our city yesterday for a visit with Mrs. B's sister, Mrs. W. F. Manney, and family. They are traveling overland in an auto.

Services at St. Michael's Episcopal Church: Sunday school at 9:45. Morning service at 10:45. Evening service followed by special program of sacred music at 8:00. "I was glad when they said unto me, 'We will go into the house of the Lord'."

Edward J. Hoering, Minister.

The big rain last night was a dandy, but it came so fast all of it did not soak in. Sam Anderson who lives east of town two miles, said it did not rain much there, but parties who came from further east say it rained about the same there as in Tucumcari, so we know the got a big rain a few miles further on.

Miss Alice Johnson, of Logan, was the guest of Misses Vivian and Maurine Steckman Wednesday night. She was enroute to her home in Logan after several weeks' visit with Mrs. H. P. Kingsbury at Mosquero. Miss Bertha Furlow of Logan, who had been the guest of the Misses Steckman for the past week, accompanied Miss Johnson home this morning.

On Friday of last week, Jack Newman, son of Mrs. Newman, in company with his baby brother, while riding one of the family horses to water, during the noon hour, which their grandfather, John Jack had been working in the field, fell from the horse's back when it stopped and shook to rid itself of flies, which resulted in breaking the older boy's arm, just above the elbow. The boy was brought to Dr. Boggs, but on account of the break occurring in or so near the joint, he was taken to Tucumcari by Dr. Boggs in his auto, where an X-Ray examination was made before it could be properly set. At last reports he was getting along all right.—San Jon Sentinel.

PLAYS A CLOSE GAME

The sinking of the American steamship Leelanaw Sunday by a German torpedo does not constitute a direct challenge of the ultimatum lately delivered by the United States to Germany, but it comes dangerously near it. There are not enough details at hand yet to form a positive opinion, but apparently due warning was given since the crew escaped.

The ship carried conditional contraband, and Germany may have been justified under "international law" in sinking her, provided the submarine commander ascertained beforehand that he had contraband to deal with, and provided he gave due warning before sinking her.

But it can readily be seen that if one American life had been lost in this latest attack, the situation would at once have assumed a most serious phase. Germany has heretofore declared that she did not intend to torpedo neutral ships not carrying contraband and not attempting to escape or resist visit and search. The details of this attack on an American ship will have to be cleared up mighty quickly, or the tension will become very great.

The ship must have been flying the American flag when struck. That of itself gives the incident a possible bearing on the existing strained situation between the two countries. But in itself the incident is probably not of such a nature as to call for immediate severance of relations or act of reprisal.

It goes to show nevertheless that Germany is inclined to trifle rather recklessly with popular sentiment and feeling in this country. She is toying with dynamite. Nobody can say what the people of this country are likely to say or do when once they take a notion that they are being made sport of.

How near we have just come to the uncontrollable outbreak of international resentment may be imagined when it is remembered that if the Leelanaw had been a passenger ship, and if one American passenger had lost his life as a result of the attack, the president would probably have felt impelled to call congress together and place the issue in its hands for peace or war.

The situation is fraught with momentous possibilities with every hour that passes. Germany well knows how she can keep the peace and how she can bring on a conflict with us. It is a rather delicate play for her to attempt just at this moment; to try to see how far she can go without stepping over the dead line.
